HIGH WIND STORM CREATES HAVOC IN INDIANA AND OHIO

Many Deaths, Scores Of Injured and Enormous Property Damage

BULLETIN

LIMA, O., March 9.—The home of Abram Showalter, three miles south of Convoy, VanWert county was wrecked by the storm, it is reported, and it is feared that his wife and five children may have perished.

Unverified reports say that Holgate, Continental and Hamler, Ohio, were practically wiped out by the storm. Because of blown down telephone and telegraph wires and interrupted traction and railroad service it was impossible to obtain the death list or the extent of damage tonight. Altho the height of the tornado was reached in the vicinity of VanWert, high winds did much damage as far east and north as Findlay.

Meager reports from Van Wert, say the entire Wells family of five was killed.

BULLETIN.

LIMA, O., March 9.—Reports over crippled wires late tonight indicated at least ten persons lost their lives in the tornado which swept over northeast Ohio, centering in VanWert county on the Ohio-Indiana state line.

Columbus, O., March 9.—Two persons are known to be dead, many are reported injured and thousands of dollars worth of property damage was done tonight by a cyclone which cut a swath thru northwestern Ohio. The center of the cyclone seems to have been in Van Wert county, altho serious damage has been reported between Lima and Findlay. Continental, Ohio, is reported to have been wiped out by the high winds and the towns of Van Wert, Defiance, Middlepoint, Convoy and Lima are reported to have suffered heavily. Jantoria, Bluffton, Ottawa and other towns between Lima and Findlay are reported to have been hit hard.

The heart of the storm apparently was in Van Wert county, from where the two deaths were reported.

Steamer is Sunk.

Fort Madison, Iowa, March 9.—The Steamer Kinzer owned by the Duluth Dredging company, sank here today during a heavy gale on the Mississippi. The crew escaped by swimming. The force of the waves crushed the boat's hull.

Windstorm at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., March 9.—A wind storm that reached a velocity of 101 miles an hour, struck St. Louis today and did considerable damage. This high velocity lasted only half a minute however, but for hours the wind blew at a rate ranging from fifty to seventy two miles.

Two persons were injured. Smoke stacks were blown down, windows blown out and automobile tops carried away.

Cyclone at Van Wert, Ohio.

Lima, O., March 9.—One family at Van Wert was wiped out when their house was blown down by the cyclone this evening and several houses were blown across the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, according to reports to the Ohio Electric Railway dispatcher's office here. Conditions west of Van Wert are critical. Farmers have started out to hunt victims in houses which were blown down.

Farm Homes Wrecked.

Van Wert, O., March 9.—A cyclone, a quarter of a mile wide and more than twenty miles long struck Harrison, Union, Hoaglen and Washen townships in Van Wert county at six o'clock tonight, wrecking farm homes and buildings and blowing down telegraph and telephone communications so that the loss of life and extent of injuries cannot be ascertained tonight.

So far two persons are known to be dead and many injured. Mrs. James Geyer of Harrison township, died at a hospital in Van Wert from injuries received when her home was blown away. Rex Ley, aged 12 was killed at Middlepoint. Several persons injured are being brought to the Van Wert county hospital.

The Pennsylvania despatcher here was informed that four persons were believed to have been killed by the storm at Richey, a few miles east of Convoy, Ohio, tonight. Pennsylvania trains are tied up at this point.

Start in Eastern Colorado.

Chicago, March 9.—High winds which started in eastern Colorado last night and lashed parts of the central west today spent their force in Indiana and Ohio where several districts tonight reported loss of life and heavy property damage.

Perhaps the greatest damage occurred in the vicinity of Continental, Ohio, which was reported to have been almost completely wiped out.

At Van Wert, Ohio, houses were demolished, trees uprooted and livestock killed. Bands of farmers have Ernest Wolfe, aged 20 mounted on a soap box at the Borg and Borg plant here, made the declaration. Then he kissed an American flag handed him by a shop foreman. The litle party was in the hands of shop foremen or there would have been violence, so incensed were fellow workers.

War News Summarized

While Nikolai Lenine, the Bolsheviki premier, is bending every effort to insure ratification by the Russian congress to meet in Moscow, March 14, of the peace treaty signed with the central powers, his colleagues in Bolshevik authority are dropping away from him or are beign dropped by him. The latest to go is the man who by virtue of his post as spokesman has been more in the public eye than Lenine himself—Leon Trotzky, the commissioner of foreign affairs. Trotzky's resignation, announced at a Maximalist party meeting in Petrograd quickly followed that of Ensign Krylenko, the Bolsheviki commander-in-chief. Meanwhile there are reports from Russian sources thru Copenhagen that a movement by the Socialist revolutionists, launched at a Moscow conference has as its aim the ousting of the Bolshevik government and the repudiation of the peace treaty. A large army, with Cossack support is being organized in the Don district, it is declared. The setting up of a Republic with a coalition government it proposed.

Petrograd has announced the signing of a "peace" between Russia and Roumania. Under its terms Roumania is a evacuate Bessarabia. This is the Russian province which Roumanian troops invaded last fall when Russian forces disorganized by the peace propaganda were reported to have begun looting both in Roumania and in portions of Bessarabia where the population is largely of Roumanian nationality. The treaty however, provides for Roumania leaving detachments in Bessarabia for the defense of Roumanian property and inhabitants.

The British front in Flanders has come the chief field of military operations with the last 48 hours. Passing from the stage of trench raiding which has ruled for several weeks past, the fighting in this area now has entered upon a more active phase. The Germans have taken the initiative, launching attacks upon fronts of approximately a mile each on two occasions. In both they sustained heavy casualties and in neither did they gain any ground. Penetrations within narrow limits effected by the Germans were speedily negatived by counter attacks and in one case the Teutons lost even a portion of the ground they originally held.

On the American front, northwest of Toul, a German patrol was driven off largely thru the vigilance and promptness to open fire of an American sentry. An attempt to attack the American lines by means of liquid fire was broken up by an American patrol, the Germans fleeing and dropping four of their flame projectors which later were gathered in by the American troops.

Paris has again had a visitation from German air raiders whose bombs caused some damage and loss of life. Berlin declares the raid was in reprisal for French raids Feb. 9 on Trevis and other German cities.

The last previous German air attack on Paris January caused 49 deaths and the wounding of 206 persons.

ILLINOIS EDITORS MEET IN CHICAGO

Guests of State Council of Defense at Luncheon—Keeley Attacks War Departent's Latest Order.

Chicago, March 9—James Keeley, publisher of the Chicago Herald brought applause from 300 Illinois editors here today by an attack on the war department's order that only the names and not the addresses or names of next of kin of slain American soldier would be given the newspapers. Mr. Keeley characterized the order as "absurd, cruel, infamous and impossible"

The editors were the guests of the Illinois State Council of Defense at a luncheon. They were invited in order that the council might acknowledge the great debt owed the press without whose aids, Chairman Samuel Insull said, the council could not have accomplished its great and difficult task for completing some of the county councils of defense Mr. Insull said were new tasks for the newspapers.

Gov. Frank O. Lowden delivered a patriotic address in which he declared that the present war more more than any other was of great significance to the American people.

Mr. Keeley in addition to criticising the war department order as inflicting the cruelty of uncertainty in thousands of homes remarked that there were all together too many publicity agents in Washington.

SHIPPING PROGRESS

Washington, March 9.—Progress of the steel shipbuilding campaign was made public tonight by the shipping board in figures of deliveries and launchings which show a steady upward trend since the first of the year. March deliveries at the present rate are expected to reach 23 vessels of 188,275 tons.

FIRST DETAILS OF LORRAINE ATTACK GIVEN BY FRENCH

Americans Repulse 3 Raids of Germans in Fierce Fighting

WASHINGTON, March 9—German troops in their attack in Lorraine on the night of March 4 twice gained a footing in the American trenches only to be driven out in fierce fighting. An official dispatch today from France giving the French view of the encounter said the Americans showed a "rare quality of courage, self-possession and calm bravery which which won them the admiration of the neighboring French troops and the hearty congratulations of the French high command."

The Americans engaged were the latest to enter the trenches, going into training with the French. First news of their presence on the battle line came in the French official statement of March 5, which told of their brave conduct in repulsing the Germans. Today's despatch, which gave the first details of the fighting said:

"After a very heavy artillery preparation, including shells of all calibers which completely demolished the ground of the sector, a strong attack was made upon the positions occupied by the Americans. A few of the enemy succeeded in penetrating into a trench, but an energetic and severe counter-attack threw them back in confusion.

"Meanwhile another section cut the barbed wire in front of the positions where the fighting was going on but they also were quickly dispersed by the precise firing from the rifle and machine guns.

"A third company finally succeeded in making their way into the lines and attempting a flanking attack which was on the point of success. Here especially the Americans gave proof of splendid energy and a morale beyond all praise. Almost entirely surrounded they did not dream for one instant of surrendering and their efforts to extricate themselves were so determined that they succeeded in displacing the enemy without leaving a single prisoner in his hands.

"The same date towards 4:30 in the morning an American patrol of four men and one sergeant encountered an enemy patrol that was cutting the barbed wire and which was composed of nine men. Giving proof this time of splendid offensive qualities and without considering their numerical inferiority the American patrol threw themselves upon the adversaries and after a furious combat succeeded in putting them to flight bringing back with them two prisoners.

"In the attack and in the defense the American soldiers assumed the brilliant place which they intend to hold among the allies' armies."

Expurgated Casualty List.

Washington, March 9.—The war department today issued the first of its expurgated casualty lists containing the names of one captain, one lieutenant and eighteen men killed in action; a lieutenant and a cadet killed in airplane accidents, one lieutenant and twelve men dead of diseases, a lieutenant and twenty-three men severely wounded in action and 36 men slightly wounded.

The dead and wounded officers:

Captain Harry C. McHenry, killed in action.

First Lieut. Frank J. Montgomery, killed in aeroplane accident.

Second Lieut. Alex Wm. Terrell, severely wounded in action.

First Lieut. Arthur Ward, died from paralysis.

The war department's order deleting the next of kin, address and dates from the list, was officially explained today as having resulted from representations of the French government to General Pershing that the casualties as published in this country made accessible to the enemy valuable information. At the same time the order of the department was brought up in the senate, Senator New of Indiana, introducing a resolution requesting the department to inform the senate why the order had been issued; if such information would not be inconsistent with the interests of the service.

Senator New asked immediate adoption of the resolution but Senator Williams of Mississippi, Democrat, objected and the matter went over until Monday without debate.

ABOLISHING SALOONS MAY NOT BE ON BALLOT

Chicago, March 9.—The question of abolishing saloons in Chicago is not likely to be on the ballot at the election of April 2, it was said today. In a contest before the election commissioners yesterday over validity of many of the signatures on a petition to place the question on the ballot, the commissioners decided in favor of the liquor representatives holding that the names should be checked with the polling lists. This task, under way today, was estimated to take so much time that it could not be completed in time to place the question on the ballot.

POOR HANDWRITING RESPONSIBILITY FOR DELAY

Washington, March 9. — Poor handwriting of men in military or naval service is largely responsible for a two weeks' delay in the distribution of government checks for February pay allotment and family allowances to dependents. Whenever a name or address could not be deciphered it was necessary send a query thru the regular military channels. This process required thousands of letters and the work of a big office force which otherwise would have been writing checks.

GERMAN PROPAGANDIST SECURES VAST SUM

National German-Alliance Collects $800,000 Which is Turned Over to Dr. Dernberg—Brewers Contribute to Fight Prohibition.

Washington, March 9.—More than $800,000 collected by the National German-Alliance for the relief of war sufferers in Germany before the United States entered the war reached the hands of Dr. Bernard Dernburg, chief German propagandist in this country at the time, according to evidence today before a senate committee holding a hearing on a bill by Senator King of Utah to revoke the alliance charter.

J. T. Tjarks of Baltimore, treasurer of the alliance, told the committee that he turned the money over to Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States and produced checks covering a greater portion of the vast sum which had been endorsed over to Dr. Dernberg by von Bernstorff.

Dr. Dernberg came to the United States soon after the war began in 1914 and first came prominently into public notice by his defense of the sinking of the Lusitania. Soon afterwards he acted on a hint of the American government that his presence here was no longer desired and requested the state department to secure a safe conduct for him. Great Britain at first declined to agree to his return to Germany, but finally acquiesced.

Earlier in the day witnesses testified that there was a working agreement between the alliance and the national association of commerce and labor to fight prohibition. Percy Andrae of Chicago, president of the association att he time of its organization, said he arranged with Dr. C. J. Hexamer of Philadelphia, then president of the alliance, to have Joseph Keller, of Indianapolis, Indiana, then vice-president, take charge of the disbursement of funds among German organizations to fight prohibition.

The name of a man who was described at "a prominent citizen of the District of Columbia," who served as chairman of the lobby committee of the national association of commerce and labor in Washington and who worked against the passage of the Hobson amendment was suppressed by the committee, Chairman King saying he did not believe it necessary to bring the man's name into the hearing.

Records of the National Association of Commerce and Labor, which were said to have recently been before a federal grand jury at Pittsburgh, were used at today's hearing. They disclosed that brewers contributed upwards of $700,000 to the organization to fight prohibition. That money was turned over to J. T. Tjarks of Baltimore. Andreae explained that of the total amount collected by the association only approximately $39,000 was turned over to the alliance, the remainder of the fund having been used in anti-prohibition work in other channels.

Moreover we are finallya ble to respond to the call for help by the hard-pressed Germans and border peoples of Russia who were striving for free development and to secure for them a guarantee of new and better times.

"When we look back over the events of these years and grasp the significance of the peace gained in the east, which means the bursting of the ring the enemy laid around us, we must look up to Almighty God with heartfelt thanks, who has so gloriously directed everything. We will draw from this fact strong confidence that the end of the world war will open a happy future to our beloved German fatherland."

MOVIE THEATRE'S ROOF CRUSHED IN BY FALLING WALL

Twelve Persons Killed and Twenty-three Severely Injured

WINCHESTER, Ky., March 9.—Twelve persons were killed, ten of whom were children, twenty-three persons so severely injured it was found necessary to remove them to the Clark county hospital and about thirty others less seriously hurt here tonight, when the walls of a burned building, adjoining a moving picture theater collapsed crushing in its roof.

Six of the twenty-three injured taken to the Clark county hospital were thought to be fatally hurt, the majority of these as well as those not so seriously hurt were children, several hundred of whom were crowded into the moving picture theater when the crash came.

Crash Creates Panic.

The wall which collapsed was also used as one wall of the theater but rose considerably about the roof of the picture show building. When it collapsed a part of it fell on the roof of the theater and crashed down into the theater. The greatest force of the roof's fall was spent upon one section of seventy five seats and it was here that all of the fatalities and serious injuries occurred. A considerable number of persons seated in other parts of the house however, were cut and bruished by flying pieces of splintered timber and pieces of stone from the falling wall.

The first result of the crash was panic in which hundreds of children and a small number of grown persons struggled to reach the entrance.

Apparently no one was hurt in this rush which easily swept thru the wide doors giving entrance to the theater. Within a short time hundreds of persons attracted to the theater by the noise of falling walls had been organized into rescue squads and soon cleared away the wreckage.

The injured were taken to the office of physicians nearby. Those most seriously hurt were ordered taken to the Clark county hospital after receiving such attention as their condition demanded. Others not so seriously hurt were attended to on the spot and removed to their homes. No check was kept upon the number.

Seventy lives were lost in a great snow storm and blizzard in New York City thirty years ago tomorrow. It was a most severe and disastrous storm.

Stories of germ laden balloons floated across the lines from the German front are currrent in France and soldiers are not permitted to touch them until they have been examined by the medical corps. Such fiendishness is almost beyond belief.

LAWS.

Some laws we have taken from Blackstone and Bacon, and statutes we've many in store; the Bible encloses the laws found by Moses, and yet there are laws many more. Enforce them we should all those which are good, and blessings will flow to mankind; but at last I have found, in nosing around, there are laws by man underfined. Now some we oft use, and others abuse because of our ignorance, see. Not much will I prate, but a few I will state in hopes it may help you and me. Perhaps you may know when a pebble you throw in the steamlet which flows to the river, that the circles grow wider and ever still wider till the waters of earth are aquiver. So I am dismayed, in fact I'm afraid, to set such a current in motion; for the circles will draw according to law all within it down to the ocean. Now there is a law in which is no flaw, you may judge it for better or worse, that the thought which you send to a foe or a friend, comes back with much added force. Just look at the ball which you throw at the wall, it always returns to its place; and so does the mud which you sling with a thud, come back with a splash in your face.

A MATTER OF COMPARISON.

The new rules of the food administration provide that each person who buys 25 lbs. of wheat flour must take the same weight in rice, oatmeal or some other of the listed substitutes. The amount of sugar which each person can buy is limited and these regulations bring a certain amount of dissatisfaction—some rebellion of feeling. But when we are inclined to chafe about these regulations which seem annoying, if we could only compare our condition with that of some of our allies, a more happy frame of mind would speedily come. A letter from a woman in England to relatives here tells of the great scarcity of butter, eggs, flour and eat. In some instances the prices are more than double our prices here and in other instances where there is little price difference it is a question of supply, and citizens have allotments which make our grocery shopping annoyances seem trivial indeed.

The fact is we have not yet begun to learn the lesson of sacrifice. We known nothing about real privation. Perhaps those days are to come and if the war continues thru a long period "perhaps" is not the word for they are certain to come. Meanwhile the man or the woman who feels annoyance because of buying restriction or who has a desire to avoid these restrictions should certainly turn thoughts toward Europe and consider the annoyances and sacrifices and privations of our allies.

MORGAN COUNTY'S WAR TIME SPIRIT.

We have a comfortably feeling in this county that the people here have generously met every war time charity or proposal that has been made, and such is the record. Women of the Red Cross all over the county are working industriously and the total of finished garments sent to the front is creditable indeed. The Y. M. C. A. fund and that for the Knights of Columbus were oversubscribed. Thru the banks the county allotments for the first and second liberty loans were cared for, and the work of selling war stamps is well under way.

These facts bring about a certain complacency, yet in the midst of this complacency those who are familiar with the records of some other counties tell us that Morgan county is after all, quite far behind. In some counties in this state and in counties in other states for months past funds have been collected systematically in advance in preparation for demands certain to come. A regular tithing system has been established in these counties and the people by making certain systematic sacrifices are doing their present part in the war activities and preparing for the future.

Morgan county has indeed done well but the ideal of war time work and sacrifices has not been achieved. The best can only come with the day of a more co-ordinated effort and a united purpose to make more sacrifices now in order that the war may be carried to a successful conclusion and that while the march to victory is in progress that there may be less of suffering, not so much among the men at the front as among the women and children of many of the European nations where today want and misery move hand in hand.

TEACHERS AND THE WAR.

As noted from time to time the teachers of Morgan county are giving prompt and efficient aid in the work of compiling information from the questionnaires filed by the selected men. The teachers were asked to do this work by the committee representing the government and the response here has been ready and efficient. Evidently the local action taken is quite in accord with the spirit of the teachers thruout the state, for the Educational Press, published by the state department of education, makes the following statement on this subject:

"No body of citizens has responded more instantly and more willingly to the call for service than the teachers of Illinois. At times they, no doubt, have felt that the calls were coming rather rapidly and that some of them were somewhat confusing, but always the same readiness to do everything within their power. Perhaps no better illustration could be furnished then their reply to the call of the President and the Governor to transcribe the matter from the questionnaires of conscripted soldiers to a card index. It meant extra work of a kind which added to the mental and nervoue fatigue peculiar to schoolroom routine. It meant that they must give up some of their very few free hours. It meant, in many cases, that they must pay traveling expenses to get to the place where the work was to be done. In some instances it meant that they must bear the discourtesies off officials who did not want "school marms mussing over important matters." Yet in spite of all this, a hundred thousand teachers have performed for the government a most difficult and important piece of work, which otherwise would have cost the government hundreds of thousands of dollars."

A MESSAGE FROM THE MINUTE MEN.

There are 25,000 "Four Minute Men" now serving in the U. S. These men appear weekly for four minute addresses in moving picture theatres and thus on behalf of the government seek to impress messages along given lines. Here in Jacksonville a number of these Four Minute Men appear at the picture theatres on regular weekly schedules. Little or no newspaper recognition is given the work of these men but they are doing an important work in dissemination of information which the government wants brought home to the people.

This week Four Minute Men all over the country will join in a campaign to impress upon the public the patriotic duty of filing their income tax returns and paying their taxes soon. Originally the limit of filing the returns was March 1st but this was extended to April 1st. There remain only about three weeks during which tax payers have the opportunity for complying with the law and failure to file returns by April 1st will subject them to fines not less than $20 or more then $1,000.

The Four Minute men will give emphasis to the thought that good intentions do not count and that thost who fail to file their reports by April 1st are not only law breakers but are unpatriotic as well and that the due punishment will certainly be meted out. When it is remembered how greatly the government needs funds and how certain it is that money is the biggest factor in this war, it is quite easy to understand that the government will not trifle with those who fail to file their tax returns and leniency will not be the order of the day.

TEN COMMANDMENTS OF UNCLE SAM

President Wilson is about to sign a bill which takes its place in history as the most liberal legislation in protection of a nation's fighters ever known. It is good enough, strong enough to be called the National Ten Commandments, and is, in effect, thus:

Thou shalt not evict, for nonpayment of rent, a soldier's dependents, under penalty of $10,000 fine.

Thou shalt not cut off a soldier's life insurance, because of delayed premiums.

Thou shalt not foreclose a mortgage on a soldier's property.

Thou shalt not take away a soldier's home on which he has made part payment.

Thou shalt not sell a soldier's property because of his failure to pay the taxes, national, state or local.

Thou shalt not settle a law suit against a soldier during his absence.

If a soldier sue, the courts shall postpone action until he can attend to it.

If a soldier have a mine, or timber or farm claim, assessments on which are overdue, it shall be held for him.

Honor thy soldier and thy sailor, that thy days may be long in the land of liberty.

No man hath greater love than he that offereth his life for the world's sake, and it is commanded that neither lawyers, nor the loan sharks, nor the gatherers of titles shall fatten on him.

THE GENTLER VIRTUES

"Church going is a splendid habit," he said, "and I feel better all thru the Sunday afternoon and evening if I have attended a church service in the morning. This is true even if I haven't listened carefully to the sermon and have allowed outside things to crowd out thoughts of the service. It is even true if what the minister says sounds shallow or uninteresting, for there is still a certain sense of having continued in a good habit, and without doubt there are some spiritual benefits merely in spending an hour within the church doors.

"Somehow with passing years my ideas of church going—or rather Christianity—have changed. The time was when it hardly seemed possible to me that a man could live a godly life and still fail to have his name on some church roll. Today I still believe that church membership is the better course but I do know good Christian men who have never seen fit to have church affiliation. Church membership used to seem synonymous with Christianity, but then came the knowledge that Christianity means so much more.

"I know men whose names are on the church rolls and who take an active interest in the services and in the doings of the church, whose daily lives reflect the teachings of the church. They are men who practice their Sunday religion during the other six days of the week and who thus in truth live consistently.

"I know other men whose names are also on the church records who rarely attend the church services and who give little thought during the week to the teachings of the church or Christianity. Then I know still other men with church membership, who are punctilious in their church attendance and who seem with great zeal to be striving to live righteously. They will not steal, they will not lie. They seem to wish to carry out in the main the ten commandments. Yet these same men who will not 'lie' or 'steal' and who follow strictly all rules of moral conduct, are often illtempered and selfish. They are not generous. When they give they do it grudingly. They think first of all of their own convenience and comfort In a crowded car they are only concerned as to whether or not they are seated comfortably. If there is a shortage in the market of any necessary commodity they think only of their own supply. They are very ready to believe unfavorable stories circulated about men they know. They are prone to discredit the motives of other people. They 'judge' people by their own particular standard of conduct.

"Now all these things summed up and with others which might be added, mean only that a man is narrowminded and selfish. So as these latter years have come I have had no less good opinion of the need of the 'cardinal virtues'—for the need of sticking closely to the stern principles that men must not 'lie' or 'steal'. But there has also come a higher regard for those gentler virtues—a greater admiration for men of broad and generous spirit who are unselfish, liberal and ready to serve. Liberal means not only in the matter of money and gifts but means a state of mind which considers other people's rights—that spirit ready to concede that the "other fellow" has the privilege of personal opinion and that the view, after all, may be correct.

"I believe now, just as I have thru the years, that it is a sounder, safer way for the man who would lead a religious life to associate himself with others in church organizations and to try to gather strength from that religious companionship. But no longer do I believe that church membership constitutes Christianity and sometimes I am tempted to believe that after all, the cardinal virtues are not cardinal, for some of the smallest, most narrow minded men I know are very righteous in the commonly accepted meaning of the word."

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

The Western Wind.

The wind is screeching past my hut, and goes kerwhooping down the street; indignantly I cry, "Tut, tut!" when I am lifted off my feet; when I, by its unholy power, am rolled along for half an hour, much like a bughouse barrel of flour — the Kansas wind is hard to beat. The air is full of flying hats, and signboards torn from marts of trade, and parasols and hens and cats, and language more or less decayed; ah, louder yet the west wind roars; and bears off trees and stable doors; and here and there a grindstone soars, and here and there an ax or spade. I stand exulting, in the blast, and watch the dizzy world aswing; I see dead cows go flying past, and in my glee I dance and sing; for ripping winds that lift the town, and shake it thrice, then jolt it down have always had a fair renown as being harbingers of spring. First comes the winds that roar and shriek, and blow our whiskers from our ken; and then the skies begin to leak, and rain brings forth the grass again; the winds must yell, the rain must sob, before spring's fairly on her job, with cowslip, rose and thingumbob, and joy is in the hearts of men.

PETROGRAD WOULD BE RICH PRIZE FOR HUNS

Germany Would Come into Possession of One of the Richest Prizes of War by Capturing Former Russian Capital.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—Should the German army of invasion continue its onward march thru Russia and ultimately reach Petrograd, which is rumored to be the goal of the movement, the Germans would come into possession of one of the richest prizes of the war.

The Russian capital is a city of great wealth as well as of great magnificence. The national palaces, museums, and art galleries of the city are filled with collections of priceless value. The great cathedrals are filled with untold riches. A levy upon the city and its citizens as was done in Belgium, would yield the German conquerors millions in gold.

Petrograd is in many ways unique among cities. Only a century and a half ago the little peninsula on which the city stands was nothing more than a dreary, marshy waste, surrounded by thickets and forests and inhabitated by a few lonely Finnish fishermen. The region was, however, always looked upon by the peoples in the interior as important for their trade. Novgorod and Bskov both made determined efforts to secure control over it. They built forts at various points in this region during the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, and, in their efforts thus to safeguard themselves, they were forever coming into violent contact with the Swedes.

The Swedes, too, erected forts, and during the sixteenth century, it was only by means of almost continuous fighting that first Novgorod, and then Moscow, maintained its supremacy. In the seventeenth century the power of the Swedes steadily increased, until finally Moscow was compelled to cede the district to Sweden. With the first year of the eighteenth century, however, the position began to be reversed. In 1700 Peter the Great commenced his wars with Sweden and before long drove the Swedes from the region surrounding the mouth of the Neva.

In 1702, even before peace had been established with Sweden Peter the Great gave orders for the erection of the city which he named after his patron saint, St. Peter. All obstacles were borne down in accomplishing his purpose. Vast armies of people from all parts of Russia were removed to the banks of the Neva to build and to colonize. Great piles were driven deep into the marshlands, in hundreds and thousands, and on these houses were erected in all directions. Everything, in fact, that could be done was done to create a capital, and to create it as quickly as possible.

Once fairly launched, the new city grew apace. As time went on, a system of canals was developed connecting the upper Volga and the Dneiper with the great lakes of the north, and thus, as far as commerce was concerned, the mouth of the Volga was transferred to the Gulf of Finland. Foreigners flocked in great numbers after a time to the new city, and the Russian capital became what it has always remained, one of the most cosmopolitan towns in Europe. Under the Empress Elizabeth, fresh compulsory measures raised the population to 150,000 and during the reign of Catherine II, this figure was almost doubled.

Today, where only a century and a half ago stood a few mud huts of fishermen, reigns a city of marvellous beauty—a city of palaces and cathedrals, of theaters and boulevards and universities. Truly, a rich prize for the Teuton invader.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, Miss Walker gave her lecture on war food requirements. In the Chapel hour Friday morning she spoke most interestingly along the line of the world's need and how each one could help supply that need.

The gymnasium exhibition on the 18th promises to be most interesting. The admission will be by invitation and will include those who are particularly interested in this kind of work.

The three one-act comedies which will be given by the Dramatic Club on March 25 are being well prepared and will no doubt please a large audience. Those who witnessed the three Irish plays last spring at the time of the dedication of the new gymnasium will realize the unusual ability which the Dramatic Club possesses.

Several visitors are being welcomed for the week end, among them being Miss Johanna Onken of the class of 1917 now teaching in the High School at Beardstown and Miss Louise Harries of the class of 1914, now teaching in the High School at Greenfield, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Frazier, ex-'20 from Georgetown, Ill.

To the Public!

We are all looking for more trade, more work and improved conditions. This applies to the man in business as well as to the producers.

The business man wants more customers, the customers want more work. Neither can be blamed for these wants.

Now, it is only fair to say that if business men want the trade of a community, they should give preference to the products of that community. The producers of another community are in no position to give their trade to this community.

We have in mind a condition wherein 150 cigarmakers and their families, besides many others depending on this industry for a living in this city. The wages earned by these people find a way into the regular business channels of Jacksonville merchants. The most of these merchants show their appreciation of this fact by patronizing the products of our home factories. There are some, however, who ask and expect the trade of home people, and who persist in buying brands of cigars made in other cities; cigars especially made in trust factories, under trust conditions.

Only a few months ago a general demand was made in these trust factories for higher wages and better working conditions, so that the men and women could live more decently, and not be compelled to wear their last summer's clothing in the winter. They were met by the police with clubs, and by the courts with jail sentences for their audacity. They were starved into submission. These acts, influenced by the trusts, show their utter heartlessness, their disregard of the needs and rights of others, especially those who made their products, who did no more than attempt to improve their condition.

Cigars made in these factories do not bear the Union Label, yet there are some dealers here who persist in handling them, and even making a display of them, in preference to the superior home product.

Jacksonville has a record in the manufacture of cigars that is the envy of other cities. This was accomplished honorably, after many years of patience by our manufacturers, in conjunction with skilled labor.

In the making of a cigar skill is required. Therefore it is required that an apprentice in a Union shop serve three years before he becomes a journeyman. In a trust shop no skill is required; much is done by machinery, and what is called the "team system", under which no employee makes a complete cigar. Specialization induces speed, the trust sets a low price per thousand, the employee speeds up, and in this way is enabled to just about keep from starvation; and these cigars, made under such conditions, are placed before us by some of our dealers in competition with the honest work, and widely known good character of Jacksonville cigars. These dealers say that they are compelled to handle them because the travelling men demand them; the travelling man, who sells the druggist his drugs, the shoe man his shoes, the clothing man his clothing, etc.

The travelling man has no particular concern for "home-made" goods, for he reasons like Thomas Paine, "The world is my country."

Well, let the dealer sell him what he wants, but it is not fair for him to entice our home people who earn and spend their money here, with a big display of the stuff that "the travelling man wants", wean his money from him and send all above his profit away to the trust and to those spiritless and weary work-slaves, who, by no process of reasoning, can return any part of it to these local dealers in trade.

So of these dealers we ask; give us a little more favorable consideration. From the smoking public, which largely has favored us with recognition in the past, we ask a continuance of same. To those who have turned their eyes to Detroit, Mich., Lima, O., Philadelphia, Pa., or Timbuctoo, we say that you can get no good from them. These 150 Cigarmakers and their families can do and are doing far more for you than they. Therefore we ask your earnest consideration and more favorable and practical recognition.

Strive To Have Healthy Skin

Next time you are in a gathering of women note the different conditions apparent in complexion. You will see some filled with blackheads, some dry and rough, some smooth and greasy, some smeared with rouge, some streaked with heavy metallic powders and once in a while you will see one that is a demonstration of intelligence from every point of view. The color is rosy, the skin is clear and smooth, the pores are small and open, the powder does not show on the firm vigorous skin. Every woman can have a good complexion if she will only use a little discretion. If you would acquire real beauty, the beauty of perfect health, you must replenish your worn-out nerves with lecithin, Nature's own nerve restorer, and put into your blood the invigorating iron which Nature intended it to have for health. In most of the modern foods these and other vitalizing elements have been largely eliminated. Yet to be healthy and beautiful the system must have them. They are found in Bio-feren, not only in proper proportions to restore weakened vitality but in such form as the system can best assimilate them.

A treatment of lecithin and iron peptonate as combined in Bio-feren increases the appetite, aids nutrition and invigorates the patient.

And Bio-feren in its pellet form is easy and palatable to take—no liquid iron discoloration of the teeth, no unpleasant taste.

There is no secret or mystery about Bio-feren. Doctors prescribe it regularly because they know exactly what it contains as well as what it will do and they know they could not formulate a better upbuilding tonic.

The action of Bio-feren on the system is so beneficial, we are so sure of its giving you positive health and vigor, providing, of course, there is no serious, chronic ailment such as cancer, tuberculosis, etc., that we only sell it on the condition that you agree to return the empty package and accept a refund of your money unless you are entirely satisfied.

There is no use waiting for health and beauty. It is better to do things today than tomorrow. Go to your physician today—right now—he will advise Bio-feren. Then start taking it at once as he advises or as directions on the package call for. The guarantee protects your money. Interesting booklet may be had for the asking.

Large package $1.00 at all leading druggists or direct if your druggist can not supply you. The Sentanel Remedies Co. Inc. Cincinnati, Ohio.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. DAVIS

At the regular morning services of Westminster church, February 24, 1918, the Pastor requested Elder Moore as being better acquainted with Mrs. Davis, to announce her passing to the congregation.

Mr. Moore having done so, the Pastor suggested that a committee be appointed to convey the sympathy of the congregation to Rev. L. H. Davis, the committe to consist of Elders Brown and Moore, together with such others as they might select. The committee was so ordered, and they selected Prof. Taylor, with Miss Phillips and Mrs. Rayhill as associates.

The committee, in remembering Mrs. Davis attractive personality and her devotion to the works and interests of Westminster, would express their own sense of loss, and that of the local and greater church, in Mrs. Davis being called from earthly residence. But they rejoice that the hope is so sure that our friend has gone where sickness is no more and there are no tears because it is into God's own city that she has entered.

And the church and committee would sincerely express their sympathy with our former pastor in the deprivation of his dearest associate, and would tender to him their desire that the comfort of this Master may be ever with him in this time of loneliness.

IT STOPPED MY SUFFERING

Said Mrs. Jaynes, Speaking of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Anderson, S. C.—"I got into an awful condition with what the doctors said was an organic displacement. I would have pains so badly that they would have to put hot clothes on me and give me morphine. The doctor said I would never be any better without an operation and I would never have any children without it. A neighbor who knew what your medicine would do advised me to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did so and it made me a well woman and the next September I gave birth to a healthy baby boy."—Mrs. SALLIE JAYNES, 37 Lyon St., Anderson, S. C.

The letters which we are constantly publishing from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of this famous root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SULPHUR SPRING AND DURBIN, GOOD SCHOOLS

Have Modern Buildings and Everything Needed for Carrying on the School Work—Pupils Show Good Knowledge of Present Day Subjects.

Nearly ten miles southeast of Jacksonville are two public buildings at a turn in the road; one is the well known Sulphur Springs Baptist church and the other is the Sulphur Springs school. Thru the kindness and courtesy of the Journal's good friend, Jacob Strawn, Jr., at 800 West North street, the writer enjoyed a delightful ride in fine Franklin car to that school Friday morning. The visitors arrived just as the worthy teacher, Miss Bertha Whitlock, had called the pupils to order.

The schoolhouse is pleasantly situated on the edge of a small hill, surrounded by native trees and is in good repair. It is lighted according to law, properly heated and has the appearance of a well ordered building. The directors, Messrs. E. O. Sample, J. W. Sample and J. W. Spainhower, are progressive men and have the welfare of the rising generation at heart. a portrait of George Washington on one side of the room and one of Abraham Lincoln on the other. The school has also a library with some useful books in it and some other pictures adorn the walls. The seats are modern and the floor and walls of the room are clean and the room is inviting.

As is his custom on such visits the writer told the pupils about a far away land and was pleased at the intelligent attention they showed. They were anxious to learn all they could and at the close asked some questions regarding that and other places. The teacher was very courteous in attention to the visitors and the entire stay was very pleasant.

The pupils of the school are:

Lucinda Mosley, Julia Buchanan, Cecil Doyle, Albert Conlee, Elzy Conlee, Alberta Davenport, Almira Samples, Lena Buchanan, Robert Samples, Ethel Smith. Russel Scroggins, Tom Welch, Pete Brady, Lawrence Mosley, Amos Mosley, Laura Buchanan, Ruth Smith, Russel Wood, Effie Wood. Gilbert Masters, Bertha Mosley, Bernice Doyle, Marie Evans, Raymond Evans, Lucy Samples, Bernice Samples, Leonard Samples.

Durbin School.

An automobile travels faster than a horse and after a visit at Sulphur Springs, Mr. Strawn set sail for Durbin schoolhouse which was reached in a short time after passing thru Pisgah and some of the finest farming land in the country.

The Durbin school directors, Messrs. Bert Rawlings, James Seymour and Thomas Oxley, have certainly done themselves great credit in the new structure which houses the school at the present time. The old one was a bit dilapidated making one think of the home of an unfortunate individual but they wisely forbore spending money on that as they meant to have a new building in time and now they have it and it is surely a treasure. It is commodious in size, lighted according to law, has a basement concreted the entire size of the building so that the children may take plenty of exercise in bad weather, a modern heating plant, separate vestibules for boys and girls where wraps may be hung and dinner baskets left and in fact about all that would be expected in a first class rural school building.

The old structure has been sold and will be removed and then the large sized playground will probably have some trees set out in it and be somewhat improved.

The interior of the apartment is supplied with one article seldom seen in such a place and that is a large U. S. flag hung conspicuously at one end of the room. There is a fine set of maps, an unabridged dictionary, some books in the library, a cabinet organ and a few pictures on the walls. The number of these will doubtless be increased in time.

Miss Corrine Rodgers is the teacher and she has her school well in hand. As the visitor was talking the pupils paid the best of attention and showed much interest in the description of lands across the great sea. At the close of the address a number of intelligent questions were asked and one fact too especially gratified the visitor and that was the answers to some question pertaining to the Holy Land. As usual the visit here was pleasant and as at the other place the callers were asked to return.

The pupils of the school are:

8th Grade—Edward Flynn, Clair Wilson.

7th Grade—Darley Wilson, Lawrence Rawlings. Byron Smith, Opal Dugger, Russel Rawlings.

6th Grade—Louise Flynn, Kenneth Rawlings, Wayne Grimsley, Daisy Seymour.

5th Grade—Gertrude Shepard.

3rd Grade—John Rawlings, Ruby Smith.

2nd Grade—Kenneth Shepard, Lucile Cox, Collins, Ebrey. Howard Seymour.

1st Grade—Iola Mason, William Birdsell.

"A FRIEND OF THE HORSE."

To the people of Morgan County, concerning horses, cattle and all dumb animals, but especially the horse upon which we depend so much both in our cities and on our farms in aiding us to raise and market our crops, on the rural mail deliveries and in hauling coal here in Jacksonville.

The horse bears his burden as well as he knows how and in return waits patiently for his reward which is very little compared to what he gives. If he has a good master he has a good bed of straw to rest on, a manger full of hay and other grain. In the morning he is groomed, fed well and watered before starting out on his work of service. A cruel master overloads his wagon, then stars to whipping or beating with a club until some humane person interferes.

If you expect the best service from your horse you must do your part. Feed and salt him regularly, offer him water frequently and by all means attend to his teeth and feet. A good veterinary will not say your horse is fit for work when his feet are full of corns, but will try to relieve his suffering.

When working in cold weather he should be blanketed when he stops for any length of time. The writer of this article has had much experience with horses and advocates oiling both the out and inside of the hoofs with Neatsfoot Oil. This keeps them in splendid shape and lessens the possibility of corns.

A man who does not care enough about his horses to abide by the above advice does not deserve to own one, nor to drive for other people.

The time is near at hand when all poor, half-starved and lame horses will be declared unfit for further service and the Humane Socities officers will be more thna glad to have these cases reported so these poor creatures may be properly and humanely destroyed.

The worthiest and most prosperous corporations provide abundantly for the care of the horses that help them maintain their meritous standing. Look for this same principle in our city and be convinced.

TO RESIST THE ATTACK

of the germs of many diseases such as Grip, Malaria, means for all of us—fight or die. These germs are everywhere in the air we breathe. The odds are in favor of the germs, if the liver is inactive and the blood impure.

What is needed most is an increase in the germ-fighting strength. To do this successfully you need to put on healthy flesh, rouse the liver to vigorous action, so it will throw off these germs, and purify the blood so that there will be no "weak spots," or soil for germ-growth.

We claim for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery that it does all this in a way peculiar to itself.

It cures troubles caused by torpid liver or impure blood.

QUINCY, ILL.—"Some years ago I moved to Colorado and the climate did not agree with me, I got all run-down, could not eat nor sleep. I became very thin and weak; my blood was also in very bad condition. I sent to the druggist's for some medicine and he sent me Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it soon restored me to health and strength."—MRS. A. E. GREEN, 833 S. Sixth Street.

BEECHER, ILL.—"Eight years ago I had bronchitis very bad, but I took Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and was cured in a few months. Two years ago I had a bad cough. I again took the 'Discovery' and was cured in a short time. Am always going to keep it on hand for it has saved my life. If it had not been for this medicine I believe I would be in my grave."—MRS. HERMAN BREDEMEIER, Route 2, Box 5.

QUINCY, ILL.—"About five years ago this spring I had a very bad attack of the Grip. I doctored to rid myself of it but it seemed as though it would hang on forever. I had read of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and decided to give it a trial. It helped me right from the start and four bottles made a new man out of me. Recently I became ill with another attack of Grip and I took the Discovery with the same good results. I do not hesitate to recommend it"—G. C. WILLIAMS, 503 N. 11th Street.

The Most Beautiful Car in America

MOTOR CARS this year will be—and should be—bought carefully, intelligently—as a well considered investment. Never have motor cars been more widely and genuinely needed. And never have they been selected with such discrimination and understanding of their real worth and character.

Every man must "wake up and speed up," if the war is to be won. This is the economic hour of the motor car. It must serve as a utility. Therefore it will be bought as a utility—selected for its sound mechanical excellence, its reputation for good service and economical maintenance and for the name of the Company that builds and sells it.

It is in that spirit, to serve that end that the Paige Essex "Six-55" is being bought, not merely by patriotic Americans, but by the efficient and discriminating Americans who recognize in this car the best value, the best service and the best ally of their own efficiency.

HIGH WIND CAUSES PROPERTY DAMAGE

Wind Saturday Damaged Property Thruout City—Several Persons Injured Slightly By Falling Sign.

The wind got on a frolic yesterday afternoon and did a lot of damage and made people seek places of safety. Several persons were blown over while walking in especially exposed places.

The court house roof swayed up and down so that a tinner was asked to come and secure it.

A window was blown from the building immediately west of the Brown Piano Company's structure and went east across Sandy street and scattered the glass along the walk.

The tower on Centenary church swayed most uncomfortably but held up. Some years ago a large part of the tower was taken down as it was so insecure.

A big glass door in the Barnhart South Main Street Grocery was smashed.

A swing on the porch of Mrs. Anna Lohman's residence blew against the window and made sad havoc.

Skinner's automobile house on South Sandy street had a sign across the walk which was blown against the large plate glass window demolishing it. A chimney on the house of Mrs. William Routt, South Main street was blown over.

The chimney used for the kitchen range at Passavant hospital was blown over.

The west wall of the south side pumping station was blown in and the building damaged.

A large tree on Routt street was blown over.

The rear end of the building occupied by the Arcade, the furniture store of Harry R. Hart, was badly damaged. The front part of the building is two stories, then there is a space of but one story and the rest of the structure is two stories. It was on this latter part that the wind got in its work. The roof was blown off and a part of the wall was demolished and fell in Morgan street. There was no stock in that part of the building. The property belongs to Thomas H. Buckthorpe and will be repaired promptly.

A large sign in front of Schraer's jewelry store was blown down and narrowly missed a lady and a little girl. The sign was uninjured but the glass sign of the dentist up stairs was smashed to atoms.

Many stories went flying about the town of several killed and injured but no lives were lost. A large sign in front of Tomlinson's clothing store was blown down. Richard Leake, Edward Stanley and Clarence Roegge were standing in front of the store at the time and the sign fell on them. It struck Mr. Leake on his shoulders and hurt him quite badly. Mr. Roegge's nose and face was somewhat scratched and hurt and Mr. Stanley was knocked down but not burised. Medical attention was at once secured and Mr. Leake was fixed up and removed to his home. The large door going to the K. P. hall was also demolished.

A large tree was blown on the roof of the residence of P. G. Douglas, 329 North Prairie street Saturday afternoon doing considerable damage to the roof. The wind also unroofed Mr. Douglas' coal shed.

Smaller casualties were reported in different parts of the city and county.

THIS SUIT is one of the liveliest of the new sport styles. There's a seam at the waist line, a military back and slanting pockets.

What's new for spring?

Any number of men and young men have asked us that question about the spring clothes.

There never has been so much interest before and never so many good styles to be interested in. Because so many men want authentic information, we're publishing the fashion notes.

There's the "erect, shoulders back and chest out" influence of this war that is evident in all the new models. The waist lines are more marked; the buttons spaced closer together; military back and pockets are the thing.

THIS is another sport style and an especially good one. The pockets have double rows of stitching and buttons and button holes.

Hundreds of Excellent Used Cars will be shown for sale at record-breaking low prices. Many of them have been run but a few thousand miles and are practically as good as new.

Used and Rebuilt Cars at Low Prices

Severe weather having curtailed the usual winter sales, dealers' stocks offer unusual selection and bargains.

New cars have increased 25 to 35 per cent during the past year, owing to higher costs of materials, labor, etc.

This means that the cars built before the recent increases offer exceptionally big values — many cars being priced at one-fourth to one-half of present prices.

All cars have been put in good mechanical condition, and approved by an official inspector before being shown.

Most of them have been repainted, making them look just like ne wcars.

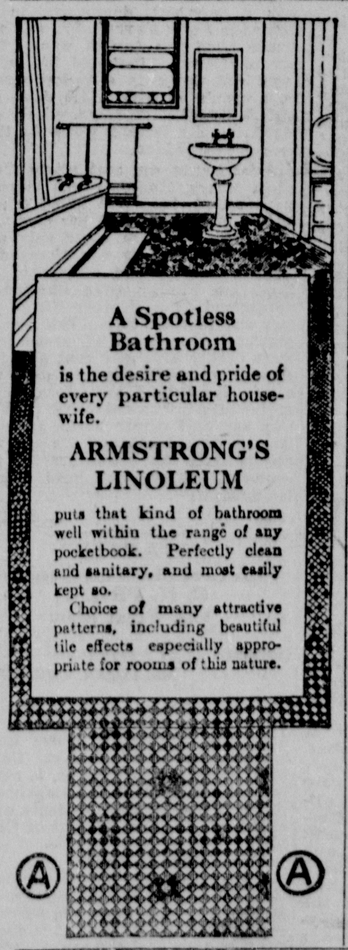

Courteous salesmen on hand to furnish all information desired.

This is YOUR CHANCE to get a good car—at a surprisingly low price. Be sure to come.

FARM NOTES.

As previously mentioned there is more interest in Morgan county this year in spring wheat than has been true for a great many years past and a considerable number of farmers will plant at least a small acreage. Thurlow Pratt of the Joy Prairie neighborhood told yesterday of his experiences with spring wheat twenty one years ago. At that time Mr. Pratt's father planted twenty two acres of spring wheat. It was a good stand and the wheat looked fine but before harvest time the chinch bugs were so bad that it was necessary to mow down five acres of the wheat round the edges and burn it in the effort to save the remaining wheat and also to keep chinch bugs from the nearby corn.

As it was the bugs destroyed five or ten acres of corn. The yield from the wheat was ten or twelve bushels to the acre. Mr. Pratt is therefore somewhat skeptical about the value of spring wheat in this locality as it is his belief, based on his own experience, and the experience of others, that chinch bugs are much more likely to appear with spring wheat than with winter wheat.

A number of Morgan county farmers have already planted oats and others are planning to plant during the coming week, if the weather is at all favorable. There are, however other farmers who believe that the last week in March is usually a favorable time for oat planting. They argue that from earlier planting the oats are very likely to be killed out by frost, and even if not killed that the weather is so cold that the seed does not germinate and that there is thus no particular advantage in the early sowing. However. this is a matter of individual opinion for there are a number of successful Morgan county farmers who declare that, one year after another, the records will show that the best yield has been obtained from those fields where the early planting plan has been followed.

There is possibly even a wider difference of opinion among farmers as to the best time for planting clover. In some cases farmers advocate planting clover seed in February and think the condition is best if there is a light covering of snow on the ground. Other farmers believe that some time during March is the best time for clover seeding if the weather conditions are at all favorable. Then there are other men who are fully confident that early in April gets the best results with clover sowing. They argue that there is little danger at that time of the clover seed being killed out by the frost and that the growth which might be possibly secured before that time by one or two weeks earlier seeding, has no great value. Clover seed this year is reported at prices ranging from $16.50 to $20 according to quality and the chances are that not quite as large an acreage as usual will be planted.

Because of the higher prices there is also a tendency to plant clover more thinly than usual. The generally accepted plan of planting is a bushel of seed to eight or ten acres. There are, however, many farmers who plant one bushel to twelve acres and still others who believe that if weather conditions are right that they will secure an excellent stand by planting a bushel to fifteen or twenty acres. Their belief is that if cold freezing weather comes that the clover will not survive anyhow and that if weather conditons are right that the crop resulting from the seeding at the rate of a bushel to twelve or fifteen acres is fully as good as that resulting from a bushel to the eight acres plan.

Does your radiator leak or does the metal part need attention? If so drive down to Brady Bros, the Quality Shop, or phone your order. Good work costs less.

RUB LUMBAGO PAIN OR BACKACHE AWAY

Instant Relief from Pain, Backache, Soreness, Stiffness, Sciatica with "St. Jacobs Liniment"

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica, or maybe from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment!" Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Limber up Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years. Stop drugging kidneys! They don't cause backache, because they have no nerves, therefore can not cause pain.—Adv.

MOTHER! DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is ofttimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

MR. PLATT FAVORS ALDERMANIC FORM.

Editor Journal:

Mr. Vaught's article in yesterday's Journal reminded me of old Jacksonville, when nearly all the good people of the city would vote to allow saloons if they would pay $800 for the privilege and then denounced the saloon keepers for selling whisky, but never a word against the system. Now with the commission form of government, which gives five men absolute power to do as they please as they have judicial power as well as executive, and if they will to can tear up the best pavement in town altho the people on the street are opposed to it they cannot hinder it, all they could do is to pay for the new one when finished.

Mr. Vaught, the system is wrong. The only remedy is to abandon it. Elect eight aldermen and a mayor and if we make a mistake as we did when we selected the present officers, we can elect four new men in one year and we can surely get one good business man that has sense enough to take our revenues, that amount to about $100.000 annually, and run the city better than it is now run, and have at the end of the year a surplus instead of a debt. There was a practical demonstration of this when Felix Farrell, Sr., was alderman from the fourth ward. For his patriotism included his home town and there is a yellow streak in a man's loyalty if it does not include his home town. You are right, the city is in a worse fix than ever it was before.

Assessments on real estate made when Henry Rodgers was assessor were raised in some cases double and in other cases 50 per cent. At that time we were taxed only one-fifth, then the law was changed to one-third so at the same rate our taxes are higher than Chicago or Springfield or any other city of our own size in the state. This has depreciated the price of property at least twenty five per cent and it is cheaper to rent than to own real estate, and this, I am informed, our mayor says is the reason he does not own any real estate here. Is it not time to do something? We can vote out in sixty days our present government. If we are loyal citizens let us do it.

A. Platt.

ORDERS SLAUGHTER OF MEXICAN VILLAGERS

Guadalajara, Mexico. March—Enraged because they could not produce the amount of money he demanded, Jose Inez Chavez Garcia, rebel leader in this region, is reported to have ordered the slaughter of thirty of the leading residents of the village of Abasolo, district of Cuerámaro, state of Guanajunto.

This follows a similar raid upon Penjamo, the cutting of communications by rail between this city and Mexico City for days, the surrouning of Morelia, capital of Michoscan for four days and the attack of Tepatitlan.

The increasing boldness and extent of Garcia's depredations has caused the federal government to assume active campaigning in this part of the country. General Manual M. Dieguez, whose operations against Manuel Pelaez in the Tampico oil regions has brought him into national prominence, has been placed in charge of the campaign against Garcia.

THE SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

The Signs of the Times show that we are on the verge of the millennium. This will be the subject for the sermon tonight at the Northminster church. Rev. Walter E. Spoonts is preaching a series of sermons on the Signs of the Times and this will be the first of the series. He will speak about the present condition of things as indicating the speedy coming of the millennium. The fast fulfilling signs of the times fortell with divine certainty that Jesus will soon come to reward every man according as his work shall be. He will take the righteous with Him to heaven, where they will dwell a thousand years. They will be His guests, and He their royal host.

The fact that we are living in the very last days is substantiated by every line of divine prophecy. They all focus on our day. Daydreams of those who are predicting a federation of nations, a United States of the world, a millennium of peace for the nations, as the aftermath of this dreadful war will never be realized. The nations are rushing to their Waterloo; they are preparing for the Armageddon of Scripture—the dying struggle of the world in sin.

There will be no second chance, when the door of mercy closes, those who have rejected the gospel, and chosen to be sinners, will remain sinner still, and will reap what they have sown. Those who are neglecting to get ready for the coming of Jesus now, will be classed with the foolish virgins and will find their portion with the wicked.

The opening of the millennium will find the earth in utter ruin, and devoid of human inhabitants. Vivid are the pictures which the Lord has given of that time. Jeremiah saw it in vision. The prophet Isaiah in describing the choas into which this earth will be plunged, declares that the people's departure from God is the cause of it.

How Satan is loosed. At the close of the millennium, the chain of circumstances which bound Satan will be broken and he will be loosed a little while. Satan and the numberless host of the unsaved of all ages will behold the city as it settles to the earth. They will see what they have lost in rejecting the loving pleadings of mercy.

The end of sin. With Satan will be conquerors of the world, famous generals and skilled warriors. They will prepare for war. They will rally around their wicked leader, the command will be given, and then will take place the last act in the drama of sin—the seige of the holy city. But as they encompass the city, fire will come down from God out of heaven and devour them, and thus will fall the curtain on sin and sinners for eternity.

Beyond the fires of that final day which will destroy the wicked and every trace of sin, will come forth the new earth, recreated and restored to Edenic beauty. Then the righteous will receive the fullness of the inheritance prepared for them from the foundation of the earth.

LOOK FOR MORE GENERAL DOMESTIC SHIPPING CALL

CHICAGO, March 9.—Owing to unavorable weather and to the comparative scarciey o merchantable grades, corn today gained strength. Prices closed steady ¼¢ net higher, with March $1.28 and May $1.27¾. Oats finished ¼¢ up. In provisions, the outcome ranged from 2¢ decline to a rise of 12¢.

Corn traders were inclined to look for a more general domestic shipping call next week. In addition receipts here showed some alling off, and there was further disquiet over rural complaints of a scarcity of cars. Bears were handicapped thruout the day.

Week-end evening up of trades strengthened oats. Receipts were meager.

Notice of the huge supply of cured meats in the west had a bearish influence on provisions but the effect soon wore off on increasing strength f prices.

LIBERTY ISSUES STEADY ON LIGHT TRADING

NEW YORK, March 9.—Material recessions were rendered by important stocks in today's short session pressure being greatest in the issues that featured yesterday's broad advance. Reading suffered an extreme reaction of two points, Union Pacific 3 and other rails as well as prominent industrials, shipping equipments and specialties 1 to 2 points.

The decline probably resulted from a combination of profittaking and selling shorts putting out new lines on foreign advices which suggested a fresh Teutonic offensive on the western front. Reserves of members in the federal bank also disclosed a gain of more than $55,000,000 against the recent loss of almost $50,000,000.

Liberty issues were steady on light trading. Sales (par value) $1,750,000.

WORDS TO THE WISE.

Wheatless means wheatless or it means nothing. Graham bread, mixed breads (part wheat), macaroni, all are on the list of foods to be avoided on Wheatless Day.

Meatless means without any beef, mutton, pork, veal or lamb. On Meatless Day eat cheese dishes, baked beans, omelets and nut loaves.

Toast as garnish, and bread croutons with soup should be a thing of the past from now on. Potato croutons may be used.

Potato Crouton.

To one cup of mashed potato add one egg yolk, and beat well together. Spread half an inch thick on a flat, oiled platter, and when quite cool cut in two inch squares, then each square diagonally across to form triangular pieces. When ready to use, brush over with milk and brown lightly in the oven or in a very little fat in the frying pan.

Attractive Combinations of Meat and Vegetables.

"Every day will be meatless for me if the price soars much higher."

The comment was made by a housekeeper at market. It is one of the problems we all must solve in one way or another, for we all like the meat flavor and would not relish giving it up altogether.

But we can stretch the meat flavor, make a little go a long way, make one pound of beef or mutton do the duty of two at our tables by judiciously combining it with vegetables. These dishes are not only comparatively inexpensive and satisfying but they are also very attractive.

Stuffed Cabbage with Brown Sauce.

Wash the cabbage and put it in boiling water for five minutes to allow the leaves to open. Chop and season left over meat (beef heart roast, mutton or liver) and put the meat between the leaves of the cabbage. Tie the cabbage carefully to retain the shape. Have ready two cups of brown sauce and add to it two tablespoons of vinegar and a few slices of carrot and onion. Put the cabbage in the sauce, and cook very slowly about three hours. Baste occasionally.

Minced Mutton With Potato Border.

To two cups of well seasoned mashed potato add the yolks of two eggs. Beat together until very light and creamy. Form this mixture into a border on a round flat baking dish. Score the top. Season two cups of any kind of meat, (mutton is good) with one half teaspoonful of onion juice, obtained by pressing the cut surface of an onion against a grater and moving it slightly; one teaspoonful of finely chopped parsley, salt and pepper. Add enough stock or milk to moisten it well. Place the meat inside of the potato border and brown lightly in a hot oven.

Stuffed Peppers (With Beef.)

Parboil four to six green peppers for five minutes. Prepare a mixture of cooked rice and rare roast beef or steak, seasoned and chopped fine. Moisten with a little brown sauce made from soup stock. Stuff the peppers with this mixture and put bread crumbs on top. Place in a baking pan and bake about twenty minutes in a moderate oven, basting with water and cooking oil—one tablespoon of oil to half a cup of hot water—as they cook. Serve with brown sauce.

Beef Tongue With Tomatoes.

Make a sauce with the liquid from a can of tomatoes and 2 tablespoons each of cooking oil and flour to each cup of liquid. Mince the tomatoes and add to the sauce. Add cold cubed beef tongue. Season well. Serve hot.

Corned Beef and Beet Hash.

Use about equal amounts of cooked corned beef and boiled potatoes and a less quantity of cooked beets. Chop all three separately. Mix and season with salt and pepper and onion. Use drippings in warming up hash. Moisten with hot water. Heat in hot frying pan turning often to keep it from sticking. This mixture may be formed into balls rolled in cornmeal and then browned.

Rice Roll.

2 cups cold boiled rice, 1 cup bread dressing (without sage), 1 cup oysters, cleaned and drained. Put 3 tablespoons of vegetable oil in a baking pan, lay on half the rice and pat it out in a cake half an inch thick. Heap on the oysters and the dressing; cover with the remaining rice, brush over with a little beaten egg (put most of the egg in the dressing) lay a little oil on top and bake to a golden brown.

Day by Day.

America must face a new war epoch.

The time has arrived when excitement over the spectacular features of our entry into the war must give way to the stern, uncomfortable, day-by-day duties which every patriotic American must endure if we are to continue on to victory.

The real significance of food control is one of the subjects which have been little considered and little realized by the great majority of the people.

The work, the very basic principles, the reasons for existence of the United States Food Administration have not come home as yet to the many.

To them this department of the Government seems but a means for securing cheaper and more abundant food.

The Food Administration was, in point of fact, created in order that the problem of provisioning those nations fighting against Germany might be met wisely and adequately.

War came, save to the plotting German mind, with startling suddenness. Food was not at once taken under consideration save as an immediate demand and supply. In consequence, there was no immediate realization of a possible world shortage.

It seemed impossible that food should ever be exhausted. The war would be a short one, every one agreed. There was sufficient territory not involved. It was one of the things about which people were not worrying.

Then the shortage came.

Millions of men had been taken from the work of producing food. The fields were left untilled or were less intensively tilled. War went on and the store of food stuffs was falling low. The cattle were killed at such a rate that it was equivalent to consuming livestock capital. Miles of once fertile land were waste within the war zones. Exports and imports were involved and lost in the criss-cross purposes of war. Ships began to be scarce and the lanes of the seas were haunted by submarine highwaymen. Prices began to rise amazingly. Certain commodities were impossible to get.

When the diminished and diminishing supply was realized, the different countries were driven to various schemes for the supply and distribution of such food-stuffs as might be secured.

The records of food control in England, France, Italy, Russia and Germany will make interesting history in the final telling, with their appalling part in the breakdown of Russia and the reverse in Italy. Even the neutral lands of Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Switzerland have an elaborate system of rationing.

And so, as in days of old the famine-stricken stretched out their empty hands to the rich storehouses of Egypt, those suffering from the lean years of their wars turned to the abundance of America.

But in this country war had now been declared and the prospect of trouble on the subject loomed large to the far-seeing.

There was plenty of food—for the country's 100,000,000 people. But a survey of world conditions brought home to those in authority the fact that we must cut down our normal consumption of certain foods if we would supply all that was required by our associates in the war.

And therein lay the difficulty—to make the nation at large see and feel the vital necessity of just that. Americans were accustomed to eating as lavishly as their individual means would permit. Altho the country was at war, the struggle was actually thousands of miles away and comfortably remote.

Still factories grew busy and yet more busy with war demands. Relief work of every type never languished. Knitting became the occupation of thousands of women who realized the need of warm garments for the soldier's winter.

All necessary in their way, adding much to the credit and power of the nation, adding much to the comfort and well-being of the men who are to go out and fight.

Food conservation is one of the things that is different. It is a daily duty without a spectacular feature. It is a self-denial of a less interesting type. In fact, one hesitates to complain of it as very much of a deprivation lest he seems to merit the charge of greediness. Nevertheless, every one likes his wheat, his meat, his sugar and his fats in one form or another. It is a bother—and an ever present one—to change one's food habits and substitute something else.

But it is just that which the Food Administration is asking you to do in wise moderation for the sake of your country and the nations across the sea, for the sake of victory. And you must do it—if not from patriotic or humanitarian motives, then from a realization of the need of self-protection.

Sane substitution requires thought. You cannot cut out of your daily fare or even greatly reduce those staples of meat, wheat, sugar and fats, without putting your mind to it if you expect a well balanced, palatable ration with no marked increase of the already high cost of living. It can be done however and it must be done.

If you keep on eating and if every one else in the United States keeps on eating just as fancy dictates, there is going to be a sad day of reckoning. There will not be enough food to send to Europe for our soldiers and the Allies, and if they starve or suffer too deeply, Germany's chances for victory are exactly so much increased.

Just what would be the result if the Teuton allies should win, is not a matter to be contemplated with equanimity. What they have done in France and in Belgium they would do again. There is no reason to believe otherwise.

Think of these things if you are inclined to eat your white bread three times daily, if you hesitate to cut down your allowance of crisp breakfast bacon or rich cream, if you want to take three lumps of sugar or cake with icing on it, if in any direction you find yourself on the point of breaking your pet indulgence.

The plan for saving meat, wheat, sugar and fats has no exception for your individual case. It is a broadly democratic principle for the twenty million families of this country rich and poor, all must follow it. It is one of the best and surest means of winning the war.

TRACTORS AND PLOWS AVERY PEORIA, ILL. MOTOR CULTIVATORS THRESHERS

The New Baby Tractor

THIS SMALL TRACTOR

is designed for all around use on any small farm. The draw bar pull is equal to that of three 1400 pound draft horses. It will accomplish as much work in a day as four horses. It has a special hitch so you may use your old horse-drawn gang.

IT WILL PULL—

Two 12-inch plows, 6 inches deep in ordinary plowing; An 8-ft. disc harrow; A 3-section drag harrow; A 7-12 grain drill; An 8-ft. binder; A large road drag; A loaded farm wagon; A manure spreader; Or any ordinary three to four horse load.

WHY KILL THE HORSE WHEN YOU CAN USE A MOTOR? SEE OUR NEW MOTOR CULTIVATOR

Think of starting out for a day's corn plowing the old way, three horses for a two-row, or four horses for two single rows and two men. Get up early at 4 a. m., feed the horses, curry them, clean the stable, get breakfast, go out and harness the teams, take them out to water and hitch up to plow. Four to five acres per plow single and eight to nine with a two-row. The horses need a rest, especially on hot days. Quit at sundown and put up your team and get supper at 9 p. m. I have done it and I know. How do you feel? Not like going to a show, you know.

Come in and see the right way. Get up, wash, get breakfast, get on the motor cultivator and plow eighteen acres. Quit at 6 p. m. and go to town happy. We wish to show you this wonderful tool in operation. A tool that means a great deal to all the farmers, one that has proven its worth and is an admitted great success. The first one built tended sixty-five acres in 1916, and is in fine running order ready for its third year of service. It is easy to handle. It is so constructed that you can remove the cultivator gangs and attach a drag harrow, disc, roller, or corn planter.

AMERICAN FORCES HAVE UNUSUAL HEALTH RECORD

One Death From Disease in Nine Months Record of American Flotilla in British Waters—Is Tribute to Senior Surgeon.

BASE OF THE AMERICAN FLOTILLA in British Waters, March. — (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—One death from disease in nine months is the health record of the American Forces in the destroyers and supply ships operating from this base. This fact and subsequent figures would prove all the more remarkable if the ratio could be given but the number of Americans over here is, of course, not for publication.

This gratifying record is regarded as a splendid tribute to the flotilla's senior surgeon who holds the rank of a lieutenant-commander and his two assistants, senior surgeons, who rate as lieutenants

Sixty-two operations under general anaesthesia have been performed by this trio since the arrival of the first of the American destroyers over here last spring. The majority of these were abdominal operations. And all were done without a single case of infection, a noteworthy point. In the same period there were 189 minor operations. These were done under local anaethesia.

The medical work consisted chiefly of the care and treatment of respiratory diseases due to exposure from inclement weather, cold and dampness, and sea watches in rough weather.

There has also been a considerable amount of laboratory work.

The general health of the Americans continues excellent, despite the rigors of the raw, depressing climate peculiar to the south coast of Ireland. They miss the dry, crisp winter weather of tthe norhern part of the United States. The dampness hereabouts causes colds to be contracted easily and weakened constitutions crack under the strain. A few of such men have been sent back to the United States but the greater majority of the sailors are in better health than in time of peace.

organized "first aid" parties and started in search of victims. One entire farmily in this town was reported killed. The cyclone which struck this district left a path of a quarter of a mile wide and more than twenty miles long according to reports which indicated a heavy casualty list and great property damage. Virtually all means of communication with the district had been destroyed late tonight.

Detroit reported many Michigan cities cut off from wire communication. Richey, Ind., suffered heavy property damage. At least four persons are said to have lost their lives in that town.

Railroad officials at Lima, Ohio, declared tonight that meager reports from towns in the surrounding counties all told of a trail of destruction left by the storm.

Moving eastward from Colorado, the high winds gained velocity as they dipped down into Missouri and Kansas, for a time reaching a velocity of 101 miles an hour at St. Louis where two persons were injured. Smokestacks were blown down, awnings ripped from their fastenings and other damage done. Still greater damage was done in Kansas but no fatalities were reported. At Camp Funston slight damage was done by the wind.

The storm reached up in northern Michigan but caused little damage, reports indicated.

WILL NOT SUSPEND HOSTILITIES

Petrograd, March 9.—The Bolsheviki paper Pravda declares that in spite of the conclusion of peace the Germans did not suspend hostilities in the Gomel-Novo Zbkzybkov sector. They advanced here in order to gain strategic advantages for the consolidation of their front.

GRANTED COMPLETE FREEDOM

Petrograd, March 9.I—t is stated in the newspapers that the Bolshevik government has granted complete freedom to Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch who has been under arrest at his home. Emperor Nicholas, on abdicating, designated him as regent.

Michael Alexandroitch a younger brother of Nicholas Romanoff, was named as regent when the former emperor abdicated on March 15 last. Early last September the Grand Duke and his fwife were arrested, it being alleged that they had been concerned in a monarchist plot. Since that time he has been in custody.

BERLIN OFFICIAL.

Berlin, MFarch 9.—British Admiralty per Wireless Press—The German official eastern front statement today says:

"Eastern theater: There have been engagements with bands north and south of Birzula, Sherminka-Odesso railway line. The bands were dispersed. Elsewhere there was nothing to report."

The official western front text of the German war office issued today reads:

"Western theater: Army group of Crown Prince Rupprecht: Lively reconnoitering activity on both sides led to vigorous infantry engagements east of Merckem, at Houthoist wood, northeast of Gheluvelt and on the northern bank of the Lys. Numerous prisoners were brought in.

"On many occasions the artillery duel was revived and during the evening it became more lively, especially on the Flanders front and north of the river Scarpe.

"Army group of the German crown prince and Duke Albrecht: Fighting activity was revived only in small sectors."

Luther Brockhouse has returned to his home in Chapin after several months sojourn at Corpus Christi, Texas. While there Mr. Brockhouse worked for the Reed Auto Company handling Buick and Cadillac cars. The climate was very good there and was beneficial to Mr. Brockhouse.

"THE WOMAN GOD FORGOT."

Geraldine Farrar, the noted prima donna, will make her debut under the Artcraft trade-mark at Scott's theater, Monday and Tuesday in "The Woman God Forgot." Jeanie MacPherson, who wrote the story for Mary Pickford's recent productions, "The Little American" and "A Romance of the Redwoods" is also responsible for the authorship of "The Woman God Forgot."

For her theme Miss MacPherson has taken the story of a Princess who sells her country for the man she loves. The whole story is taken from a chapter in the early history of America telling how the Spanish invaded Mexico and of their conquest of Montezuma and his Aztecs. Geraldine Farrar is seen as Tezca, daughter of Montezuma. She falls in love with a handsome young Spaniard, which role is played by the ever-popular star, Wallace Reid. Cecil B. DeMille, the famous director in the Artcraft production took a company of 125 people by special train into the Yosemite, California. This is the first time in the history of the photodrama that an organization has been taken such a distance in a special train for the filming of such a small number of scenes.

The largest aviary in the world was used during the filming of this play. A number of the scenes show the huge private swimming pool and garden of Montezuma's daughter. This pool was especially built for the production and is in the garden containing the temple of the sacred bird.

PHI ALPHA FLAG IS UNFURLED

Appropriate Services Held in Honor of the Members of the Society Who Are in Service.

The members of Phi Alpha held a very enthusiastic meeting in the society hall after the joint debate. Carl E. Robinson '12, was chosen as toastmaster for the eveninf. He filled the place in a very acceptable manner. The following men were called upon for toasts.

Hugh Green: "Phi Alpha."

Samuel W. Nichols: "As an Old Member Sees It."

William D. Wood: "The Young Men."

Benjamin F. Lane: "The Same Old Spirit."

Robert Nesmith: "My Last Chance."

John Martin, "The Sparrow."

Francis Taylor: "A Guilty Feeling."

Albert Lee: "The Great Discovery."

The height of enthusiasm was reached when a large service flag was unfurled. The flag was donated to the society by Benjamin F. Lane, a true member of the society. The list of men in service was compiled and the stars added to the flag by some of the members of the society and outside friends. Bryan Underwood made the presentation speech. In brief his words were as follows:

"While we are celebrating the victory which we have won tonight, we must not forget the men who are in the service who are fighting for a greater victory than we have fought for, yet it is along the same line. This society was founded upon a democratic basis and we have been fighting for democratic principles ever since the founding of the society. Many of our men are across the ocean fighting for the greatest victory which democracy can give. It is for these men that this flag is presented. This service flag is not simply a piece of bunting with a few pieces of blue calico pinned on it. It is not merely a painted flag; it is not a mere cluster of brilliant color; it is an emblem of dignity, honor and patriotism. It speaks for itself far more elequently than I can speak for it. It has been called 'a floating piece of poetry;' and yet it would have no more intrinsic beauty to it than any othere colored cloth, if it were not for the meaning which it has to us. Its highest beauty lies in what it signifies. It represents those forty three men who have seen fit to answer their country's call. Those who are perhaps sacrificing their lives in order to protect democracy. It means liberty; and the downtrodden creatures of Europe see in the men who caused tthe birth of such flags, a great deliverance. A should be a source of great inspiration to us. Our pride for what it represents should be unfaltering.

Think what it will mean to those who are fortunate to return and to walk into the halls of old Phi Alpha and see this flag which is in honor of them. It will recall to them the history which they have made. It will let them know that during their absence from our midst we have not been entirely forgetful of them. It will recall to their minds the wonrous trials and triumphs they have gone thru. While on the other hand to us it means memory, honor, patriotism and hope. It is a symbol of our pledge to them. To them we may well say:

"March on, Phi Alpha men so true
March on, Phi Alpha men so great!
Humanity, with all its fears.
With all the hopes of future years,
Is hanging breathless on thy fate!

'March on, nor fear to face the storm!
Our hearts, our hopes are all with thee;
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers, our tears,
Our faith triumphant o'er our fears,
Are all with thee, Phi Alpha men, are all with thee!"

WILLIAM WOOD GENERAL IN UNITED STATES ARMY

Son of Long Time Jacksonville Resident Recently Taken from Retired List and Promoted.

To Mrs. Preston Wood No. 6 Duncan Place this city belongs the honor of having a son who is a brigadier general in the U. S. army. Altho he has not been a resident of Illinois for a long period, many in this state remember William Wood as Colonal Wood. He was appointed to West Point thru the influence of Congressman Joseph Cannon, and graduated there in 1877. He was in active army service during the years following and when the Spanish war came on had a prominent part in the hostilities. He performed a notable work in the Philippines. After the close of the war he became commandant at Jefferson Barracks. Following some years' service there he was retired because of physical disability and became treasurer of the soldiers' home in Washington, D. C. Recently, however, as he is in stronger health he again entered the active service of the army and his appointment as brigadier general was recently confirmed by the U. S. senate. He is serving as assistant inspector of the U. S. army and his duties take him to the various army posts and cantonments.

Gen. Wood's most notable work was in the Philippines, where he went as captain of the 18th infantry. He went into the islands before the fall of Manila and took a part in that historic campaign, and as captain of the 18th infantry personally captured the Spanish flag that waved over Estado Mayor, afterward the headquarters of the department of Luzon. Subsequently to the capture of the city of Cebu, recognized by Gen. Otis as second important in the islands as a shipping center. Capt. Wood was sent down to start the customs department. At that time he was not familiar with work in that line but his record was such that speedily led to recognition and he was appointed a colonel. Colonel Wood was born in this city in 1854 end entered West Point in 1873. Following his graduation he served in various assignments until 1894, when he was made a captain. He was promoted to major of the 30th infantry in 1901. His record has been one of continued excellence in service and one in which his relatives and friends may well feel pride.

New collar and cuffs of the pretty new spring material on your coat or suit will make it very new and stylish. Illinois phone 88.

GIVE EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT

An entertainment was given at Central Christian church Friday evening and the program as carried out was unique and pleasing. There were more than three hundred in attendance and the goodly sum realized from the admission fee is to be used to purchase suits for the basketball team of the Sunday school. The program was in charge of Miss Eleanor Thompson and much credit for the success of the evening is due to her efforts. The entertainment was planned along the lines of a comic book, "The Fotograf Album," and included pictures of the various members of a family and the ancestors. The ones taking part did excellent work in posing and some of the pictures were exceedingly amusing. Mr. and Mrs. George Beekman sang "When You and I Were Young" following a pose and four young women, taking the part of colored servants, sang, "Old Folks at Home." Miss Ranson was heard in a pleasing recitation.

During the social hour which followed the pictures Miss Jeanette Benson's class served cocoa and wafers.

REBATE ON PAVEMENT

Property owners of Prairie street are to receive a rebate of approximately 7½ per cent on the tax for the paving on that street. This is true because the price paid to the contractors for the work was somewhat less than the estimated cost. At the time the plans and specifications for the work were prepared an estimate was made of the cost and the tax levy based upon this estimated cost. The contractors did the work at a lower figure than the estimate, hence the rebate.

LOCAL CAMOUFLAGE COMMISSION FORM OF GOVT.
(By W. N. Hairgrove.)

Jacksonville to Dec. 1907, had from time to which the memory of the present generation runneth not, had operating in it the licensed saloon. It derived about Twenty Five Thousand dollars per year revenue from that source. In that year the people had a power given them to abolish the licensed saloon by popular vote, a power which I think belongs justly to the People for local self-government. The conduct of some of the liquor people had become especially obnoxious to the law abiding element and the city officials were in the public eye guilty of a failure to enforce the laws.

Outcasts from other places came here to flaunt themselves. The people of Jacksonville smarting from the sting of unrebuked violations of law rose in their dignity and without discrimination closed or attempted to close all. Twice was the question submitted to the men of Jacksonville and the answer was the same. Then a third time it was submitted and this time the women could vote and by a vast majority the licensed saloon was forbidden in Jacksonville precinct. It was then clear to all discerning people that the licensed saloon had gone and gone forever from Jacksonville. Many people liked to ride in the band wagon, that is if you, or a movement is a success, they are with you. If you, or a movement, is not a success, they are not with you. In rebellion a successful party is a Patriot. If he fails he is a rebel. If a man in mental affairs succeeds he is a genius. If he fails he is a crank. Its merely the difference between success and failure.

And so in the success that came to the Anti-Saloon element, there was that band wagon element of camp followers who really did not know how they voted the year before, who clacked loudly and were ready to do injury by their unkind and harmful remarks as to those who admited they had voted for the lawful saloon. Such parties were not actuated by principle, but were mere opportunists trying to ride high on the wave of success.

It was so popular to be an anti and so disgraceful not to be one as they saw it and so in business and in politics the thing to do to succeed was to raise that issue regardless of its relevancy. The doctor and the lawyer were tried out on that issue frequently and not on professional ability or quality of merit and even his business was made to suffer because he honestly voted for what he thought was the best interest of the city.

I always voted for the licensed saloon, not that I thought a saloon was a soul saving institution for I never did. I knew the city needed the revenue. The reply to that was that the saloon is immoral and as a matter of principle we could not license immorality or crime. If the basis was true the conclusion was logical and there was no answer.

Later development have shown we sure needed the revenue. I claimed that local option was not a remedy—that it simply amounted to driving a skunk out of the front yard into the back yard. In reply they said the officials could enforce that law as well as any other if they wanted to. The first officials the public felt were not in sympathy with the law and so when they failed to make it effective the public said they did not try. We then elected the ultra dry and still the law is not effective. They said it would reduce criminal expense but the county's criminal expense has more than doubled since there is not a saloon in the county.

The liquor interests have gone from bad to worse as the years have gone by—their arrogance with their money—breweries coming in and buying property locally, putting men of doubtful or worse standing to operate brewery saloons, poor quality of goods furnished, coarse conduct and violations of law till no one could defend much of their conduct—and to demand our rights of personal liberty in the face of such a stench was apparently to invoke a high principle for a low cause.

So the saloon has in fact by the logic of the situation been relegated to the rear and forever and it is as useless to talk of it here as to discuss the right to secede from the union. But demagogues long after the war was over still waved the bloody shirt and howled of Patriotism till it well became known that "Patriotism" was the last trench of a scoundrel, he could hide behind that when all arguments as to the point at issue failed.

Today we have an analogus condition in our City government, while so much in the way of municipal service is left undone, while there is such a display of lack of efficiency in most departments. The city official gather to cover and there in their great wisdom they crystalize into ordinance a law requiring an individual to get a license before he can ship any liquor in or receive it in the City of Jacksonville.

The city only has the power given to it by statute—it is created by the statute and can regulate or prohibit the sale of liquor in the city. Why do they make such an ordinance. They know or ought to know if a carrier had liquor for a man and would not deliver it to him because he had no license from the city that he could replevin and get it by law. It is camouflage. I spoke at a public meeting, one of the city council attempted to reply. He said in effect that I seemed to have it in for him he did not know why unless it was because he did not associate with the kind of people he used to—camouflage. He wanted to bring up an immaterial issue. I never did associate with him. That stali is old. I remember of reading of a fellow in an ancient book, who stood up in the temple and smote his breast and thanked the Lord that he was not like other men. As I understood it that fellow did not fool the Lord and there are many that won't be fooled by camouflage. Boot leggers don't ship in liquors. It would show a record. They haul it in, generally after sun down. If lawful users can not ship, they will have to buy of a Bootlegger and get rotten spirit stuff at $1.75 a pint, 40c a quart for beer. Hoover don't regulate the price in Jacksonville.

The city is not arresting Boot leggers. Ask the State's Attorney if they are?

He is located in the first room at the left side of the front hall which was previously used as the office of Judge W. B. Thomson. This will make a very convenient and accessible office for the county agent. Judge Thomson was willing to change his office to the room immediately in the rear of the main office room of the county clerk.

This room is just as large as the one that Judge Thomson has vacated. County Clerk Boruff has used this room in connection with his other offices but he was also willing to do his part in the rearrangement plan in order to provide the county agent's office, and adding machines and desks which have been a part of the furnishings of this room were moved to other places.

LADIES' DEPARTMENT

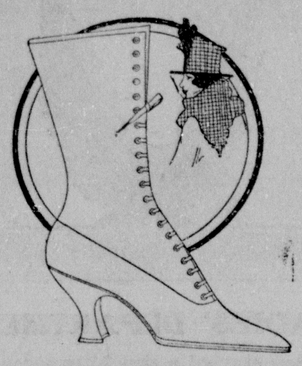

Many a man has started a checking account for his wife, to teach her banking methods. It is a wise precaution. In these days of uncertainty it is well to guard against the unforseen.

This bank welcomes Ladies' Checking Accounts. Special attention is given them. The little courtesies like a ladies' waiting room, special ladies' teller, and convenient check books, etc., are afforded of course.

Such an account enables a woman to keep an accurate account of her household expenses — to learn banking methods, and often times promotes thrift.

DR. HEIRONYMOUS TALKS TO WOMAN'S CLUB

Community Advisor of University of Illinois In Interesting Adrress—Program Supplemented With Piano Numbers By Mrs. Helen McDougall James.

The woman's club met yesterday afternoon with a good attendance and was called to order by Mrs. Miller Weir. After transacting routine business the meeting listened to a fine address by R. E. Hieronymous, the community advisor of the Illinois State University.

Community betterment was his theme and his speech was full of patriotism and sound common sense. He dwelt on the urgent necessity of full co-operation on the part of all classes. No individual, corporation, society or class of people can at all afford to withhold any service which can possibly be rendered the country at the present time.

The country is engaged in a war which means either life or liberty or its death and there is no half way measure or position. Complete organization is all important. People should not work as individuals as duplication and waste are very likely to occur under such circumstances but all should heartily unite in one common effort to strengthen the hands of the government to overcome the common enemy.

The gentleman was heard with close attention thruout and his talk was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Helen McDougall James favored the club with some fine piano numbers which were ably rendered and much enjoyed.

Mrs. Weir stated that the club had been called on to pay its part of war camp community service and to that end the first week in April they would have a picture show at Scott's theater and due notice would be given.

MERRIGAN'S

HOME FROM CAMP LOGAN

Mrs. George J. Birdsell has returned from a visit of several months at Houston, Texas where she went the 14th of last August to be with her husband who is stationed at Camp Logan. Mrs. Birdsell says when the boys were first sent down there the site of the camp was a thick pine forest not at all inviting to any one. Plans were made and the grounds laid out and then the boys went to work with a will to get the place in shape.

The growth was cleared off, buildings erected, streets laid out and everything in general was done to make an ideal camping ground and it seems to have been done. The boys take much pride in the place and it is kept scrupulously neat and clean and all are on their mettle to have it remain so.

The boys are in good spirits and are drilling with all the time and eager to get at the Kaiser.

BEQUEST MADE TO STATE HOSPITAL

Dr. E. L. Hill, superintendent of Jacksonville State hospital was yesterday notified by the state department of a bequest of the late Mrs. Caroline Brueggeman of Edwardsville. A son of the testatrix was for many years an inmate of the hospital and evidently the the testatrix was greatly pleased with the care and attention given him. The will provides that the money shall be invested and the proceeds added to the amusement fund for the patients. Mrs. Brueggeman's intentions were undoubtedly excellent but she had probably overlooked the fact that the hospital is a public institution supported by taxation and bequests of such institutions are very rare.

NEW MEATLESS RULES EXPLAINED

Change in Food Administration Orders Means More Meat and Pork Consumption.

Telegraphic mention has been made of the change in the rules of the food administration which removes the ban from pork on Saturday and abolishes various meatless meals during the week. The complete ruling on this question is contained in the following order sent to M. F. Dunlap, Morgan county food administrator:

To County and Local Food Administrators:

We are now prepared to officially announce the change for the time being and until further notice, of the food administration program with regard to meatless and porkless days and meals as outlined in the public press of March 4th.

We, therefore, ask you to announce definitely and in such a way that all may have notice, that there will be but one meatless day, viz. Tuesday of each week, and that meatless meals and porkless Saturday need not be observed. Lamb and mutton may be used on Tuesdays until April 15th.

This modification in the rules is for the purpose of securing a reduction in the consumption of bread stuffs, not only wheat but the substitutes as well, which the larger use of meat will greatly assist. In explanation of this temporary change in program, it may be said that the greater supply of meat is due to shortage in transportation, arising largely from weather conditions, and the desire of the farmers to feed their soft corn before spoiling has led to forced feeding of animals and stock is of increased weight generally, and ready for the market earlier. As above noted, the breadstuff situation, especially as regards wheat is of the greatest importance.

Very truly yours,

United States Food Administration.
